

North Carolina School of Science and Math (NCSSM) Distance Education offers a variety of courses through interactive video conferencing and traditional online delivery. For more information please see your school counselor. The distance education course catalog can be accessed via the NCSSM Distance Education and Extended Programs website at <http://www.ncssm.edu/learn/>.